

Flixindustries.com

Flix Industries is a team composed of motion graphic designers, videographers, content editors, and creative designers that specialize in creating award-winning social media content for all types of platforms.

Flix Industries offers world-class video editing services as well as transitions/overlays packs and numerous subscriptions for all types of clientele. Backed by degree-holding and award-winning team members, we guarantee top-tier creative content that will resonate with the viewer on a personal level. We strive to keep our core company values at the head of each project we undertake, and that's noticeable from start to end. Whether we're focusing on a big client's motion graphic or working on more content for our subscribers, our unique editing approach is sure to captivate any and all who see it.

Personas:

Sports Content Client - Prospective new client at the professional/collegiate sport level interested in help with content creation.

Freelance Client - Prospective new freelance content creator client interested in a transitions pack for personal use.

School Board Client - Prospective school board client interested in purchasing editing subscription for a high school class.

Comps:

<https://nicholascreative.com>

<https://gravityworksdesign.com>

DOGCEO

<https://dogceo.myshopify.com>